

As a busy professional, you can't afford to be tied to your desk. You need to conduct business while on the move, whether you're running to the printer or to your next meeting. Attaching a headset to your telephone can give you hands free or complete freedom from your desk.

We recommend and sell Plantronics headsets.

Plantronics introduced the first lightweight headset in 1969 and is today the world's leader of headsets. It was a Plantronics headset worn by Neil Armstrong that transmitted the historic message "one small step for man..."
